Some pastors and Bible teachers are able to spend several hours a day alone with Him, soaking in His presence and discerning His guidance for their lives and ministries. It's just a logical first step for a therapist to begin helping the other person work through it until they can either deal more successfully with it or see it for what it is--something that doesn't really exist. If you will continually live in this state of peace, joy, love, praise, and thanksgiving, no matter what trials come your way, then you will grow by leaps and bounds in spiritual maturity and in discernment of God's voice within you! If I love you, I will obey what I command. The prophet waited with anxious heart to know. This makes it easy for the enemy to speak to us even through the voice of well-meaning Christian friends, family, pastors, and so on. Sometimes it is easy for the devil to deceive us simply because we do half the job. It was the vision of the dying Stephen. Oh I have such goosebumps reading this Cath!!
